(By International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 12.—Day by day the evidence is piling up to prove that those persons who used to exist on a diet of rickety highballs and cocktails have now taken to consuming real, honest-to-goodness food.

The latest person to appear upon the witness stand is Oscar Teekley, the famous "Oscar" of the Waldorf-Astoria.

"The old cocktail may have been an appetizer," says Oscar, "but the new-age appetite seems to be much better now that nothing stronger than grape juice is in order."

"The food checks in my dining room eat luncheon and dinner, and also for the supper dancings on the roof, are fully 20 per cent larger—and I mean larger quantities of food are ordered and not merely that the prices of the dishes are higher."

2,500 CARS ARE URGED TO MOVE PART 1919 CROP

Felix M. Williams and J. W. Mulhern, representing the car service section of the Interstate Commerce Commission left Amarillo today after making recommendations to Washington and turning in reports on the situation as they found it in the Panhandle.

In addition to attending the meeting last Thursday, Mr. Mulhern, in company with Congressman Marvin Jones and Secretary F. R. Jamison of the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce made a trip over a part of the car service men went over the Plains last Saturday. In the office of A. S. Stinnett, president of the Panhandle-Plains Chamber of Commerce, the car service men went over the situation as it appeared to them from their investigations and submitted recommendations they have made by wire.

The report of the car service representatives is reasonably accurate and acceptable to the shipping interests of the Panhandle, Mr. Stinnett said today. The recommendation asks for 1,000 cars to take care of old wheat right away, and 1,500 cars for old maize and kaffir.

It is asked that in 30 days, the Panhandle be supplied with 3,800 more cars for the new crop, and in the succeeding 30 days, 3,200 more cars. In 90 days it is recommended that 2,750 more cars be sent to the Panhandle which in the aggregate, it is estimated will take care of about 50 per cent of the new crop of wheat.

The recommendations made today are intended to relieve the strain on the financial situation, but efforts are still not to be relaxed, said President Stinnett. It is the purpose, he declared, to keep in constant and close touch with Washington until the entire crop is saved and shipped. Mr. Robins, head of the car service division, has advised by wire that he be kept informed of the conditions as the season advances, indicating his willingness to render such assistance as he is within his power.

Mr. Mulhern went to Oklahoma City today, and Mr. Williams to Galveston.
